MICHAEL HEWNER

2957 N. DeKalb Dr., Apt. 101, Atlanta GA 30340   (206) 335-7180; hewner 'at' gatech.edu

Objective

To find a summer job that will let me teach programming (or some other technical subject).

Experience

- Georgia Tech—Atlanta, GA
  Graduate Student: August 2007–present, January 2007–July 2007
    - Primary research focus is Computer Science Education
    - 2 seperate studies on factors that influence CS learning

- Amazon.com—Seattle, WA
  Software Development Engineer: June 2003–June 2006, January 2007–July 2007
    - Promoted after 1.5 years to SDE II
    - Developed "Ninja Coder" programming riddle project
    - Technical Lead for a 7 person team, coded many projects in C++ and Perl

- University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign—Champaign, IL
  Teaching Assistant: December 2001–May 2003
    - TAed for Software Engineering I & II
    - Developed coursework, consulted on large programming projects, held regular office hours

Education

- Georgia Tech—Atlanta, GA
  Ph.D. in Computer Science
    - Anticipated Graduation 2012
    - GPA 4.0

- University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign—Champaign, IL
  BS & MS in Computer Science
    - Got both a Bachelors Degree & Masters Degree in 4 years
    - Specialized in Object Oriented Programming and Software Engineering Methods
    - Undergraduate GPA 3.81, Graduate GPA 3.61

Activities

- Community For Youth—Seattle, WA
  Youth Mentor: November 2004–May 2007
    - Mentored 1 high school freshman, and now a family group of 6 students
    - Coordinates monthly study group meetings
    - Tutoring 1 student in basic programming

References

- Mark Guzdial—Professor, Georgia Tech guzdial 'at' cc.gatech.edu (404) 894-5618
- Paul Ohlhaut—Manager, Amazon.com
  pohlhaut 'at' amazon.com (206) 266-3119
- Ralph Johnson—Professor, University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign
  johnson 'at' cs.uiuc.edu (217) 244-0093